SUPPORT SURVIVORS OF TORTURE

PANEL EVENT
WEDNESDAY 25 JUNE
You are warmly invited to mark the International Day in Support of Victims of Torture 2014.

‘Difficult things happen’: why are governments justifying torture in our name?
Join us to discuss the disturbing trends of government torture and how this can change.

Dr Kiran Grewal, University of Sydney, will discuss how countries can stop torture by their military and police.

Mohamed Dukuly, social worker, will share stories of the challenges and hopes of torture survivors.

Edward Santow, Public Interest Advocacy Centre, will comment on Australia’s possible contravening of international laws governing conflict and prisoners of war.

The panel discussion will be moderated by Richard Ackland, Walkley award-winning journalist, publisher and lawyer.

Venue: Event Space, Level 3, Central building (directly opposite UTS tower) 28 Broadway, Chippendale, Sydney
Date: Wednesday, 25 June 2014
Time: 6pm doors open, 6.30-8pm panel
RSVP: By Friday 20 June to aiansw@amnesty.org.au

This is a complimentary event by invitation only. Light refreshments provided.